“It is not possible to be in favor of justice for some people and not be in favor of justice for all people.”
— Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
What is Predatory Lending?

Predatory lending is an unfair and abusive practice that strips a home’s value and forces borrowers into foreclosure. Predatory lenders often target people based on their race, country of origin or ancestry, or age.

Predatory Lenders:

- Sell homes for more than they are worth.
- Tell borrowers to lie about their income and expenses in order to get a loan.
- Lend borrowers more money than the borrower can afford to repay.
- Charge high interest rates and fees to borrowers.
- Target vulnerable borrowers when they know the borrower needs cash.
- Convince homeowners to repeatedly take out loans when there is no benefit to the owner.
- Use high-pressure tactics to sell home improvements and make loans to pay for the improvements at high interest rates.

What Do Predatory Lenders Do?

- Tell you they are your only chance of getting a loan or owning a home.
- Ask you to sign a sales contract or loan document that contains blanks or false information.
- Tell you that insurance protects you against property defects or loan fraud. It does not.
- Change the terms of the loan at time of closing.
- Tell you that additional loans can solve your credit or money problems.
- Tell you that you can only get a good deal on a home improvement loan if you finance it through a particular lender.

Tips on Being a Smart Borrower

1. Interview several real estate professionals and check their references before you select one to help you buy or sell a home.
2. Research prices of other homes in the neighborhood. Do not be fooled into paying too much.
3. Hire a licensed home inspector to carefully inspect the property before you buy. Determine whether you or the seller will pay for repairs. If you have to pay for repairs, make sure you can afford them.
4. Shop for a lender and compare costs. Be suspicious if anyone tries to steer you to just one lender.
5. DO NOT let anyone persuade you to make ANY false statement on your loan application. Lying on a mortgage application is a crime.
6. DO NOT let anyone convince you to borrow more money than you can afford to repay.
7. NEVER sign a blank document or a document containing blanks. If information is inserted by someone else after you have signed, you may still be obligated to the contract. Insert "N/A" or cross through any blanks.
8. Read everything carefully and ask questions. Do not sign anything that you don’t understand. Before signing, have your contract and loan agreement reviewed by an attorney.
